Standard Deviation (Std Dev): Measures the average a return series deviates from its mean. It is often used as a measure of risk. When a fund has high standard deviation, the predicted range of performance implies greater volatility.

Beta: A measure of the volatility, or systematic risk of a security or a portfolio in comparison to the market as a whole.

Alpha: Often considered the active return on an investment, gauges the performance of an investment against a market index or benchmark that is considered to represent the market's movement as a whole.

R-squared: A measure that indicates the extent to which fluctuations in portfolio returns are correlated with those of the index.

Tracking Error: The divergence between the price behavior of a position or a portfolio and the price behavior of a benchmark.

Top ten holdings: As a percent of total assets, industry sectors, and asset allocation are presented to illustrate examples of the securities that the fund has bought and the diversity of areas in which the funds may invest and may not representative of the fund's current or future investments. Portfolio holdings are subject to change and should not be considered investment advice.

Price/Book: Price-to-Book Ratio is the weighted average of the price/book ratios of all the stocks in a portfolio.

Price/Earnings Ratio: Price-to-Earnings Ratio is the ratio for valuing a company that measures its current share price relative to its earnings per share (EPS).

Price/Free Cash Flow: Price-to-Free-Cash-Flow Ratio is the percentage amount of a company's free cash flow divided by its market capitalization.

Price/Sales: Price-to-Sales Ratio is the ratio for valuing a company that measures its current share price relative to its annual sales per share.

Return on Equity %: Return on Equity Percentage is the percentage a company earns on its shareholders' equity in a given year (Year 1, 2, etc.).

Important Risk Information:

Exchange-traded funds involve risk including the possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results.

The Adviser invests in equity securities only if they meet both the Fund's investment and values-based screening requirements, and as such, the returns may be lower than if the Adviser made decisions based solely on investment considerations.

The Fund faces numerous market trading risks, including the potential lack of an active market for Fund sharers, losses from trading in secondary markets, and periods of high volatility and disruption in the creation/redemption process of the Fund. These factors may lead to the Fund's shares trading at a premium or discount to NAV. Securities of companies with small market capitalizations are often more volatile and less liquid than investments in larger companies. Small cap companies may face a greater risk of business failure, which could increase the volatility of the Fund's portfolio.

The Fund is a new ETF and has a limited history of operations to evaluate.

Additional risks are included in the Fund prospectus.
